

What You Can Do

Call and write all of your Oklahoma representatives. You can find out their name and contact information on this website.

Let your representatives know that you are tired of the tax evasion and fraud that causes untold animal suffering while it robs millions of dollars from Oklahoma.

Support regulations of all facilities releasing large numbers of dogs and cats...it is the common sense thing to do.

Write letters to the editor regarding your concerns and encourage others to educate the public about this issue.

If you would like a speaker at a church or civic function, please contact this website.

Join animal welfare activities that teach the public about this issue.
